By REYNOLDS PACKARD
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ROME, Oct. 11.—(UPI)—German-inspired reports said Nazi forces were abandoning all of Greece in an 11th-hour attempt to escape a closing Balkan trap today, as British troops stabbed into the Corinthian Isthmus toward Athens and, to the north, captured the Albanian seaport of Sarande (Porto Edro).

War Work First In His Company Official Says

Gathering data on Western Canada's electrical requirements, Col. R. Dickson Harkness, DSO, MC, a former vice-president and general manager of the Northern Electric Co. and a director of the company, arrived in Edmonton yesterday morning to confer with officials here.

He is accompanied by T. C. Clarke, manager of the company's office for British Columbia and Alberta. Mr. Clarke is president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and during his stay will be in touch with members of the ABC Committee, a joint committee of Alberta and British Columbia, set up to foster trade between the two provinces.

Col. Harkness said that the Northern Electric Co. has "brought up its neck" in war work, and that war work comes first in the company's production. He said that plans are being formulated for post-war production of civilian goods, and his present visit to Western Canada is to study the market and to set up to foster trade between the two provinces.

Forms Ready To Apply For War Gratuities

each six months' service overseas, and a re-establishment credit for dependents.

Men who served in Kiska are entitled to gratuities covering the period of their service. Canadian home defence troops, however, receive no benefits under the legislation.

Nationals of other countries who served in Canadian forces are entitled to gratuities.

SEND TO HEADQUARTERS

Headquarters said that application forms should be obtained at the most convenient place and forwarded, along with a copy to the Ottawa headquarters of the service to which a man had belonged.

Dependents of deceased members of the forces may apply, provided they were eligible as dependents at the time of the death of the member's death, or if not eligible for dependents, to the extent of the gratuity that was dependent upon the member at the time of his death.

Canadians who have been discharged from other enemy forces during the war may apply if they now are domiciled and resident in Canada, and were domiciled in Canada at the outbreak of hostilities.

MY USE LETTER

Former members of Canadian forces who qualify must use the printed application form, but dependents of Canadian forces who served in other enemy forces may submit their applications by letter. Dependents, however, should be guided by the fact that they must indicate the member's name and service number, state the exact date of discharge, the date upon the discharged or deceased member, and whether they were receiving gratuities at the time assigned pay at the termination of the member's service.

Canadians who served in other enemy forces should give full particulars of service, the name of the forces and unit in which they served, the rank, name and address for discharge, full name and service number.

WHERE TO ADDRESS

In all those cases the addresses to which letters of application should be mailed are:

For Naval personnel or their dependents: The Secretary, Naval Board, Department of National Defence, Ottawa, Ontario.

For Army personnel or their dependents: The Secretary, Department of National Defence (Army), Ottawa, Ontario. Attention: Paymaster.

For Air Force personnel or their dependents: The Secretary, Department of National Defence, Air Force, Ottawa, Ontario. Attention: Records Officer.

URGENT REACTION

Due to the number of persons who have been suddenly discharged up to the present time, headquarters emphasized the importance of early action by applicants for gratuities, so that the gratuity may be received reasonably soon after the machinery goes into full operation.

However, payments will not commence prior to Jan. 1, 1945, and in some cases there may be further delays. It is, therefore, at the time the applications were received.

The announcement pertains only to the war service gratuity, headquarters said. "Public announcements will be made at a later date respecting the changes in which applications for the re-establishment credit are to be made."

Schelde Estuary Campaign May Decide War's Length

By DOUGLAS AMARON

LONDON, Oct. 11. (CP)—The speed with which the 1st Canadian Army cleans up the Schelde estuary may decide whether the war in Europe will be won this year or will continue through the winter into next spring.

of peace after victory. The British and Russian leaders spent three hours together in the Kremlin, and in a speech to the Soviet people with which the Soviet premier greeted Mr. Churchill was considering the problems which will face the United Nations after the war ends.

STRONG NATION FORCES

The Germans are extremely sensitive to their northern and north-western flanks where, it is estimated, the British and the Americans are advancing. As far as the Germans are concerned, they have drawn up 150,000 men—the equivalent of nine British divisions—on the western front to meet the threat of the four armed divisions—to fight the battle of Holland.

Major amphibious landings, such as the one made Monday on the south bank of the Schelde estuary, may be necessary to drive the British and the Americans to the Rhine. The British situation is such that positions as Walcheren Island in the estuary, where big guns have to be silenced in the first, will be auctioned on Friday. Carracks entered in the show will be auctioned on Friday, Oct. 20.

Judging in the fall show will get underway on Tuesday, Oct. 17, and will continue through Friday, Oct. 20. The market lamb and commercial market lamb will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 18, of pure-bred, castrated and uncastrated. The carcasses entered in the Friday, Carracks entered in the show will be auctioned on Friday, Oct. 20.

The cards, white with the Canadian crest centred, will carry this message:

"Canadians everywhere join me in sending you heartiest greetings and the best of good wishes for the coming year." The message is a message announcing the arrival of the year and can be present from the Canadian government and that following last year's practice, Christmas cards from individuals, particularly from the National Selective Service offices.

In his application for permission, he said that the National Selective Service had informed him that there was no Japanese in Canada of Japanese origin available for domestic service.

The city council decided to act on this request, but in order to make inquiries regarding the bona fides of the application, and stipulated that the man, if he were granted permission to come here must have been born in Alberta.

Mr. Churchill, chairman of the C.C.C.U. in the city, said that the address at the day four meeting attended by secretary of business and professional men, Mr. John E. Hull, and Mr. Ed. McRae with the other to Premier John E. Churchill and Premier Roosevelt.

Cabinet Hears Submission by Municipalities

Twenty resolutions, passed by the United States Municipalities Association, were introduced this summer and dealing with a variety of municipal problems, were read at a cabinet meeting Tuesday.

Supporting submissions were John Galbraith, union secretary; John Evans, Athabasca secretary; treasurer; George W. Parsons, Legislative committee chair; Thomas G. Kroc, Edmonton city solicitor; Robert G. Doh, John Hodgson, Edmonton commissioner; Ald F. J. Mitchell, Edmonton, and Ald. J. C. McRae, Vancouver.

Union delegates urged upon the government necessity of establishing a motor vehicle for improvement of highways and construction.

Other resolutions asked for information concerning the proposed Alberta Highway Association, the creation of a Central Control Board profits; and for legislation making milk pasturization.

Delegates by resolution expressed opposition to permanent residence of the city of Vancouver, ex parte from British Columbia, and requested that all prisoners of war be sent back to their home countries after the war.

ENGINEER SERVICE

One resolution asked the government to provide engineering services to the Canadian Army, and a reconstruction committee to municipalities planning post-war development. Such services will be provided by government expense.

WINTER HARBOURS

Antwerp, with harbor facilities comparable to Liverpool, is the key to the supply problem of Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Brooke's British 2nd Army and its undamaged docks will be available to the Allies when winter weather conditions will delay a breakthrough into the German German peninsula.

British military observers have kept a close eye on the Canadian progress along the coast in northern France and the low-lying terrain, and especially the north.

Charles C. Gandy, chief of the Canadian engineering division, said that the British are well prepared for the winter.

Community Chest

Edmonton's Community Chest drive is some $6,500 short of its minimum requirement and unless unexpected contributions come in it will fail to realize its objective. This is the statement of President Julian Garrett.

It would be tragic if the current budget is not attained, not only because the failure would seriously embarrass the work, but because it would indicate a breakdown in Edmonton's morale.

There are two factors which probably militate against collections this year. Both are products of carelessness thinking.

The first is the more or less prevalent belief that because Canada is enjoying what social security has, the need for social security has disappeared. This belief, of course, is totally erroneous.

The fact is that the kind of people to which the Community Chest extends its benefactions are not affected by changes in economic conditions. The very old, the very young, the physically handicapped are not the less old or young or unfortunate or sick because times are good. General prosperity, if there is such a thing, at present under wartime taxation, does not ameliorate their difficulties.

The second factor which operates against Community Chest collections is that many of the public feel that tag days constitute a breach of the undertaking given when the Chest was formed, namely that the single collection would obviate a multiplicity of tag days.

Here again, the reasoning is faulty. The tag days are temporary devices to gain money for essential war purposes which are not touched by the Community Chest. One has nothing whatsoever to do with the other. The tag days will disappear when the war is over. Meanwhile they are highly necessary.

The Community Chest is a sound and constructive method of enabling people to discharge their social duties.

Failure to adequately support the Community Chest would work irreparable damage to the social structure of this city. It would be a backward step in civilization.

West Meets East

While there are many war and post-war questions which may profitably discuss, it is safe to assume that Mr. Churchill and Mr. Eden went to Moscow in part to find out what exactly are Marshal Stalin's ideas about the future of Poland. The fall of Warsaw climaxed the dispute between the Polish government in exile and the Polish committee at Moscow which the Russian authorities regard as the more satisfactory body with which to deal. Exactly why the committee is preferred or why the Polish government at Moscow, a matter on which the British ministers would not doubt like first-hand information, as a step toward bridging a cleavage which could become dangerous when the time arrives to work out the boundaries of post-war Poland.

Tsypo has also ground to suspect that another point for discussion is, whether Russia will remain neutral in the Pacific when it is no longer engrossed in Europe. When Japan attacked Pearl Harbor, it struck home in the less than at the United States, though indirectly. Russia at that time was fighting for its life with totally inadequate armament, and it was only from the United States that the needed supplies came. The Japanese attack was in effect a move to divert United States planes, guns, ships and equipment of all kinds to the Pacific—and away from Russia. Has Stalin overlooked that until America creates the rest of "neutral" Japan? Perhaps he has told his visitors, though the information may not be passed along to the public just yet.

Remembering that Mr. Churchill was in conference with President Roosevelt at Quebec over a few weeks ago, one can surmise that Mr. Molotov knows his reactions at Washington on these and other subjects likely to be discussed there. The logic of circumstances is that he went in the dual capacity of Prime Minister of Great Britain and unannounced spokesman for the President.

Full Employment

Official figures just issued show that at the end of September 1944, 1,000,000 men in Canada had enlisted in the armed forces or were gainfully employed; 56 per cent of the population over 14 years of age. The remaining 44 per cent margin included women whose family duties prevented them from seeking the work, old people and those who were physically otherwise incapacitated.

It did not include boys and girls in their teens as a group, because a great proportion of these were in uniform or at work. This is a record in which Canada can truly be proud.

The total population of the country is believed to be about 12,000,000. Subtracting those in uniform and the boys and girls in the younger teen-age category, not much more than a third of the white population is available for the war industry. Yet production was in a volume never before approached, the average standard of living was higher than it ever had been, debts of the depression years were paid off, and the country was supplying the Allied forces with food and munitions in amounts which bear comparison with the per-head contribution made by the people of any other Allied country. "Full employment", it will be observed, does not mean what it seems off-hand to mean, working for wages and profits. That is neither possible nor necessary nor desirable. One in three of the entire population at productive work is shown to be in reality a condition of "full employment".

The over-all, it will not be necessary to keep old people idling about shops and factories, nor to herd children into industry when they should be at school or at play. Under a rightly adjusted system of old age pensions and wages and allowances for the support of children, the number of those in the unorganized lines of the working years will be sufficient to maintain production at a high level and support an average scale of living hitherto unknown in peacetime. The facts of wartime industry establish that point definitely.

Tsypo reports that 19 of its admirals have been killed during the last month. Have the army assassins started to kill off the heads of the navy, as they used to kill cabinet ministers who did not dance when they were in the room?

British, American and Canadian bombers delivered 56,000 tons of bombs in Germany during September, delivered them at points where they could do most damage to the war machine. Göring's war machine, on the other hand, can only do sporadic raids into Allied territory and dropped at most a few hundred tons. This represents the permanent, not simply the present, effectiveness of the naval forces. The Allies continue to hold the present pace, and increase it if necessary, indefinitely. The Luftwaffe can't come back.

Mr. Wendell Willkie became something of an international character through his flying trip around the warring world and the conclusions to which his observations led him as to the lines on which an enduring settlement would have to be drawn. The results of his tour, which will be well reflected in the forthcoming champion of national liberties, Mr. Willkie visited Edmonton on the last lap of his globe-girdling tour, and a number of people in this city will thus remember him as a personal acquaintance.

Slats Marion, Bobby Doerr
Selected Most Valuable

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11—(AP)—Martin (Slats) Marion, star shortstop of the newly-crowned world champion St. Louis Cardinals, and Bobby Doerr, Boston Red Sox second baseman, Tuesday were named by The Sporting News as its selection for the most valuable players in the National and American Leagues, respectively, for 1944.

The baseball paper said it had made the selections independently of the American League in conjunction with a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

At its semi-annual meeting here last week, the Writers' Association decided to make all the star awards directly from the working through The Sporting News.

Martin J. Haley, newly-elected president of the association, who said their official selection made from a poll of all members of the association would be announced in November.

Awards, made by The Sporting News went to Marion on the basis of his .333 average and Doerr because he not only was the defensive ace of the Red Sox but also had an .323 average in hitting with 233 average before leaving Sept. 3 to join the Army. The Cardinals' Marion and Doerr finished second in the 527 of manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland.

Marion was a dominant factor in the Cards' winning their third straight National League pennant. Although he had a solid series was not taken into consideration. Slats had won with many brilliant plays and batted .277 of the Cards' 100 games. St. Louis whiped Browns in six games.

Major Beaumont
Is Sorry to See
'Riders Fold Up

OTTAWA, Oct. 11—(CP)—Major Beaumont, director of the Army sports officer, and Tuesday in a statement commenting on the withdrawal of the Regina Roughriders Rugby Football club from participation this year that he was "sorry to see a fine club fading up."

Withdrawal of the Regina club from the Canadian football personnel are not permitted to play.

Major Beaumont said he was "grateful" to see the Regina club was still in existence and support of a high school team, and added that "it will beat fruit that will be the best in the many championships in years to come."

He expressed belief that "many good sportsmen can be recruited in this war."

"We have been concentrating on getting the best young players to make up our teams far too often in the past," he said. "And as a result we have lost many good men who want to play the game for the sport of it, but have no facilities offered to them."

Major Beaumont said it was hoped to see the old amateur intermediate teams compete with the result that "home boys will play on the home teams."

Future of Cricket
Discussed in OC

LONDON, Oct. 11—(CP)—The future of British county cricket was discussed at Lord's Tuesday by the advisory committee, who met to consider a 6,000-word report of the select committee sent up to investigate the post-war cricket situation. The report was published last Friday.

It was decided to set up a sub-committee to discuss the possibility of a knock-out competition.

The committee decided to allow a long time for a national council against fixtures allotted. They agreed upon a proposal which would see the first 10 wickets at the weekend or 24 hours before a match. They turned down a proposal that the first four wickets should be awarded only for outright wins and not on a first-innings basis.

All decisions arrived at by the advisory committee are subject to ratification by the Marylebone Cricket Club when it meets in a month's time.

Higher Fares To Outer City Areas Sought

A city council amendment to be sought from the Alberta legislature to charge the City of Edmonton to increase its fares for certain areas of the city, desiring transportation services, it was decided by city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Council members, also adopted the recommendation of its transportation committee to support in principle the giving of transportation service to the inner zone only and also to prohibit the extension of the inner zone.

Adv. H. D. Ainsley said the transportation committee of the Edmonton City Council recommended that no public transportation in the city was not only one of equipment, roads and materials, but also of general service. He also had the opinion that it might be better to provide transportation to certain sections of the city, rather than to people to settle there, rather than wait until districts are settled before providing transportation facilities.

It was pointed out that the charter amendment was to provide the charging of increased fares within the city in the acquiring of certain sections of the city, the fare above the five for 25 cents, could not be charged, it was discriminated.

AMENDMENTS NECESSARY

The charter amendment was necessary, City Solicitor T. G. Gardner, said. It was felt that an increase in fare for service to outlying districts. Under the present charter, legislation would have to be obtained before the five for 25 cents, could not be charged, it was discriminated.

Adv. Sam Bowcott was of the opinion that the time had arrived when all transportation services except trolley, would be under the control of the city's street railway system.

Leaves For Calgary

Premier Frank MacEachen left Edmonton Wednesday morning for Calgary, where he will speak at an Alberta Old Age Pensioners' Society meeting Wednesday night. He will return to Edmonton on Friday.

"Signal"

If you turn a corner without signalling and an accident occurs due to your neglect to signal your intentions, you are guilty of an offence. The same thing applies if you are the cause of damage to another car but pulling out from the curb, put out signals—it's a safe thing to do.

Agreed to lease at 15, block 50 Gibbons to S. E. Taylor, owner of two adjoining lots, for a period of five years, the city commissioners to draft a lease and to set the annual rental.

Concorded to a bylaw to provide that the new assessment be made for the year 1945, and to adopt the assessment for the year 1944 as the assessment for the year 1945. The bylaw provides for increased assessment of lands upon which new buildings or additions have been made and also where the assessment has been increased or decreased by reason of assessment appeals.

Toronto Editor Stresses Need For Full Unity

Speaking on the need for national unity in Canada, B. K. Sandwell, editor of the Toronto Saturday Night, addressed a joint luncheon meeting of the Men's and Women's Masonic clubs Tuesday in the Masonic Temple.

His recent visit to Australia and the British Isles by the Canadian party has convinced him more than ever of the basic correctness of the CCF policies. Angus MacInnis, CCF member of parliament for Vancouver East, said in an address to about 150 persons in the Masonic Temple Tuesday evening.

The Vancouver speaker divided his address into two parts, first giving a general review of the work he observed in Australia and New Zealand, and following with a comparison of social legislation with a comparison of social legislation in Canada.

25-DAY VOYAGE

The voyage of the party of 14 from Vancouver to Australia required 29 days and was made on a ship loaded with explosives.

In Australia the Liberal party has made a great job of directing the war effort, and there is no talk of a general election, Mr. MacInnis said.

The constitutional setup of Australia is little different than in Canada, except that the Senate there is elected.

Australia faces a knotty post-war problem of getting enough money from the federal government. Different gauges for railways in different states is one of the problems.

War came to Australia with the bombing at Port Darwin, and the result is that both Australia and New Zealand are probably more conscious of the problems of national security than many others.

HOPES FOR SECURITY

Australians hope for security by two methods. First, they hope to have a security setup and secondly through an increase in population by immigration. Mr. MacInnis, reading the "hugest book of history of war," said that there would be a great problem when 2,000,000 servicemen and their wives came back to Australia.

All other parties in Canada are agreed that the CCF is the party of the future. The party's program is that the only way they can make any appeal to the public is to be honest.

"Even Broken has declared he will socialize where socialism is not wanted," Mr. MacInnis said.

He has a plan for the party to take over all for security and through adequate international organization of countries.

"Even Broken has declared he will socialize where socialism is not wanted," Mr. MacInnis said.

Art E. Thorson was chairman while Elmer E. Roper, M.L.A. Alberta, was his assistant. The speaker, H. D. Anderson, CCF candidate for Edmonton East and Mary Crawford, party candidate for West Edmonton in the next election, spoke briefly.

Expect Record Honey Production

Alberta's honey crop in 1943 is estimated to reach 5,000,000 pounds.

Set a new record for production.

The government has deliberately increased both expenditures and wages after the election of the CCF party in 1935, the speaker said.

This New Zealand program, which includes all the main features of the CCF platform for Canada, has four salient points.

First, a guaranteed minimum price for farm products. Secondly there is the social security and thirdly the government even hazard a person is likely to meet for monetary benefits for all circumstances.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Third, the pension of $10 a month and automatic superannuation for all at 65 regardless of income.

Fourth, a plan for the unemployed, and orphans, unemployment benefits, sickness benefits and special provisions for coal and hard coal.

The state machine and health programs are making progress and these are the main features of the CCF platform for Canada, he said.

The government has constructed 17,000 homes since the program started and plans 30,000 more for the post-war period.

Homes and towns are planned in integrated master plan communities, the speaker said. The New Zealand social program and compared it to what there is in Canada.

He said that the New Zealand looks very bad, Mr. MacInnis declared.

He said that the people of Canada face grave days when the war is over, and that must be considered when whether they will return to the security of pre-war days that produced Nazism and Fascism, or go ahead into a planned system of living.
